GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 116. GREENSBORO, N. C., MONDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1900. Price Five Cents

ABOUT HIGH POINT'S GROWTH.

SHE IS NOT MAKING ANY FUSS AS SOME OTHERS ARE.

Her Population Has Doubled During the Last Decade—Mr. Steele Has a New Position—Other News.

Correspo dence of The Telegram.

High Point, Dec. 16.—High Point is not tossing ary unacceptable boquets at the census man on account of the number of inhabitants reported by him for this place. On the other hand we are very well satisfied at our growth in population which is about double that of 1890, when we had 2,200 people here, instead of 3,418 as given in the table of comparisons of growth of the towns in the State within the past decade.

Speaking of our growth brings to mind an article in the Columbia, (S. C.) State last week, which perhaps will be of interest to readers of this paper:

"Readers of The State will have observed that High Point, N. C., which ten years ago was so small a village as not to be separately enumerated by the census-takers, now has a population of 4163 people. What did it? Not cotton mills, although they have wrought equal wonders elsewhere; but furniture factories. High Point is the centre of a very flourishing industry in this line."

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Steele returned Saturday from a stay of several days in Washington city.

The folowing committees have been appointed for the annual reception of the Home Lyceum:

Invitation—Mrs. J. J. Fariss, Misses Minnie Alexander, Zillah Smith, Mary Alexander; Messrs. P. R. Ragan, W. C. Jones.

Reception Committee—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirkman, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tate, Misses Emma Parker, Nettie Matton; Messrs. A. L. Burns, Alvin Parker.

Refreshment Committee—Mesdames George A. Matton, W. H. Ragan, E. D. Steele, J. A. Lindsay, W. G. Bradshaw, D. A. Stanton, Misses Floy Richardson, Cornelia Roberson.

The reception will be held sometime during the holidays. The annual receptions are among the most important social functions held in High Point.

A negro servant at the Bellevue Hotel succeeded in carrying away a large amount of provisions this week. The officers captured most of the articles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Havre did not leave for Phoenix, Arizona, Saturday as was contemplated. They have postponed their departure for several days.

The brick store building which Mr. J. H. Johnston is erecting on his property on Thomasville street, will add considerably to the looks of that thoroughfare.

Mr. W. B. Steele has been appointed a deputy collector for this State. He goes to Raleigh tomorrow to enter upon his duties. Mr. Steele has been awarded several lucrative positions for services to his party in the past several months. He was supervisor of census in this district in the recent census-taking.

"Jack" Field is confined to his room with measles.

Must be a Mistake Somewhere.

Statesville Landmark.

Says the Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer:

Jude Boyd is here. His nomination has not yet been sent to the Senate, but so far as developed there will be no opposition to his confirmation by Senator Butler, and he will have smooth sailing in the Senate and be confirmed in due time.

This cannot be correct. The distillers in Iredell were solemnly promised that if Mr. Simmons was elected he would defeat Judge Boyd's confirmation. When it was pointed out that Boyd might be confirmed before Simmons could get into the Senate the answer was that Mr. Simmons' influence was so great that he had only to be nominated (as he was) on the 6th of November and forthwith he would proceed to do Judge Boyd. The Iredell distillers have a right to expect this promise to be kept and if Judge Boyd is confirmed they will have a right to think they have been deceived.

SURE TO BE AN EXTRA SESSION

IMPORTANT BILLS WILL FAIL TO PASS THIS CONGRESS.

A Republican Close in the Secrets of the Administration Gives This Out—There Will Likely be No Re-apportionment.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The President is said to have determined to call an extra session in March This statement was made today by a Republican member of congress who is seldom left out of important conferences and theretore is usually correct in his forecasts. Saturday the President gave as his reason for declining the invitation of the Illinois State manufacturers' association dinner on March 26th, that he would call an extra session of the senate to consider nominations. The member of congress referred to says an extra session means more than the nominations, as the Nicaragua canal, ship subsidy, river and harbor bills will hardly pass this session.

NO RE-APPORTIONMENT.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The House committee on census began its consideration of the re-apportionment bill today, and by a vote of 6 to 5 expressed a preference for leaving the Representatives at 357, as at present. This vote was not considered a finality, however, as several members were not present, but was taken mainly as a preliminary test of the sentiment of members.

There are a number of bills before the committee, but the main discussion turned on the Hopkins bill, keeping the total of the House as at present and the Burleigh bill increasing the total. The vote was taken on the issue between leaving the House as at present or increasing without reference to any particular bill. In order to permit absent members to be present and vote, the committee adjourned until 2 o'clock, on Monday. Chairman Hopkins says he hopes a favorable report will be agreed upon at that time, in which case he will report the bill at once and endeavor to take it up in the House next Tuesday.

The advocates of increasing the membership of the House do not consider the vote of today as in any way decisive, as one of the absent members was quoted at the meeting as favorable to an increase and the other absent member is said to be doubtful, but rather inclined to an increase. After the vote had been taken today, those seeking an increase moved an adjournment in order to postpone final action until the absentees were present.

Trinity College Students Visit New York

A party of twenty-five students in political economy and sociology of Trinity College, accompanied by their teacher, Prof. Jerome Dowd, passed through at noon going to New York city. They had a car to themselves and will be carried through without changing. Miss Nan Dowd, of Charlotte, met her brother here and will accompany the party. They will be absent a week, returning next Sunday. Several Greensboro Female College girls were at the station to see their brothers and cousins.

Judge Boyd Gets Cigars From Manila.

Capt. E. L. Gilmer and Lieut. O. H. Dockery, of Army in the Philippines, have each sent to Judge Boyd a box of fine Manila cigars. The Judge is delighted to be thus remembered by his soldier friends.

A Sunday Fox Hunt.

A fox was scared up on Summit avenue yesterday near the home of Mr. C. W. Jennings. A lot of the neighborhood boys and dogs chased him into a culvert under the railway, where for a time he baffled his pursuers. Finally he was dislodged and killed after a short chase. It seems as if the Summit avenue boys and dogs can beat our fox hunters hands down, when it comes to catching the wily fox.

To Chase the Mollies.

Dr. W. A Lash is chaperoning a party of young gentlemen in a rabbit hunt near Walnut Cove. They were to leave this afternoon and will be gone a day or two.

PUTTING OF PULPIT PRECEPT.

THE PEOPLE WERE IN GOD'S HOUSE DURING THE SABBATH

The New Methodist Pastors Preach—Dr. Smith Talks to Young Men Concerning Business—Something Special in Music.

Rev H K Boyer, the new pastor of Cnetenary Methodist church, preached two excellent sermons yesterday. The theme last night was the sympathy of Christ with His people.

Dr. S B Turrentine, the new pastor, occupied the pulpit at West Market yesterday for the first time. Good congregations greeted him both at the morning and evening services. His text last night was the wish uttered by Baalam concerning his death: "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his." The first portion of his discourse was a description of the life of Baalam, "who," said the speaker, "was one of the most mysterious characters in the Bible. He is regarded as the type of covetousness, the sin of the ages. That this is the great sin that is going to beset the ages is shown by the fact that the Lord placed a warning against it in the first of the ten commandments. Covetousness is love of money. The miser who gloats his few dollars is just as guilty of this sin as is the millionaire who hoards his millions. It is the principle and not the quantity that constitutes the sin.

"Ambition carried too far leads to covetousness. Jonah, after prophesying the destruction of a people, was angry upon his return to find that the Lord had spared them. He would rather see the people die than his reputation suffer.

"Gifts without grace will prove a curse. There is something higher and deeper than these acquired gifts, and that is the Holy Ghost which comes down and baptises these other gifts.

"Double mindedness is unstable and will always fail. Show me a person who is unstable and I will show you a person who will fail. The one trouble with Baalam was that he was unstable He would go first one way and then another He lacked definite purpose in life and stamina of character.

"Baalam's life and motto might have been expressed thus: 'I want to die the death of the righteous and live the life of the wicked.'

"Baalam's great mistake was that he went too far in the wrong direction; one inch in the wrong direction is too far A king once wished to select a charioter to drive his chariot. Three men were brought before him. Said the king: 'How near to yon precipice can you drive with safety?' 'Within a foot,' said the first. 'Until the wheel is half over,' said the second. 'And you,' said the king to the third. 'I would keep as far away as possible,' said he. 'Then you shall drive my chariot,' said the king. My friends, as we walk up the mountain of life let us keep as far as we can from the precipices.

A father once took his children into a swift river to swim. He ventured further and further until his children were swept away and lost. The parent reached the shore and as he did so he exclaimed: 'My mistake was that I went too far.' My friends, there may be those who walk in the wake of your influence, and you may lead them into the stream of life until you go too far, and see them go down in the waves of sin and exclaim, 'I have gone too far.' Parents, what example are we setting our children?"

The last part of Dr. Turrentine's sermon was devoted to a contrast between the deaths and testimonies of sinners and those who died the death of the righteous.

His discourses, both morning and evening gave evidence of deep study and familiarity with the Scriptures, and were listened to with the marked attention and interest they deserved.

The music at Westminster church yesterday morning was particualarly enjoyable. Mr. Z. V. Taylor assisted the choir. His rendition of "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" was very effective. After Mr. Hodgin's excellent sermon on the text: "But thou when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father

JUDGE JAS. E. BOYD ENDORSED

GTEENSBORO BAR ASKS FOR HIS CONFIRMATION.

The Nomination is in the Hands of the Senate and Judiciary Committee and Will Probably be Acted Upon This Week—Favorably of Course.

Hon. Geo. F. Hoar,
Chairman Judiciary Com.
Washington, D. C.

The members of the Greensboro bar respectfully request a favorable report on and the confirmation of Hon. Jas. E. Boyd for judge of the District Court of the United States for the Western District of North Carolina.

He is discharging the duties of his office with high credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of the members of our profession.

Signed, CHAS. M. STEDMAN
Chairman.

The members of the Greensboro bar met this morning and as a result, the above telegram was sent It was a very graceful thing to do, and the action, voluntary as it was, should be sufficient testmony to the good impression that Judge Boyd has made during his short service on the bench.

The meeting of lawyers made Maj. Chas. M Stedman chairman, and he appointed a committee to draft a suitable paper These gentlemen were Messrs. A. L Brooks, R R. King, and Z V Taylor, and they returned the resolution quoted above in the form of a telegram, which was at once sent Senator Hoar

The President sent Judge Boyd's nomination to the Senate Saturday, and it was referred to the Judiciary Commimttee. It will probably be returned by them with a favorable report this week

COL. J. WILEY SHOOK'S OBJECTION

Something of His Attire and the Remark He Made "Ferninst" Greensboro's Dry Time.

If Col. J. Wiley Shook wasn't so openly proud of the fact that he never wears a collar the world would speak guardedly about his unfettered neck, because he tips the scales at about 250 pounds and is something on his muscle But he is so good-natured, yet aggressively, collarless that he doesn't care a hang about any allusion to his peculiarity. The colonel will wear a frock coat or patent leather shoes, but in the matter of restricting his rubber-necking proclivities he is like the statesman who told his wife that he was perfectly willing to stop swearing, bnt he'd be d—d if he would wear dress clothes.—Charlotte Observer.

This refusal of the Colonel to wear what, in the parlance of hoi barbaroi, is known as a choke rag, may not be due wholly to his rubber-necking proclivities, but partly to his antipathy for anything warm. This idea is somewhat suostantiated by the objection which the colonel made to being in Greensboro last summer during our water famine. On his return to the mountains from a visit to this place, some one asked him how he liked Greensboro.

"I have the same objection," said Col. Wiley, "to Greensboro that I have to h—ll. It's too dry and I don't like the climate."

With the Sick.

Mrs. M. A. J. Ellington, who has for some time been sick at the residence of Mr. M Jordon on Asheboro street, is somewhat improved today. She is an auut of Mr M. S. Sherwood.

Mr. B. F. Jennings, the aged father of Mr. C. W. Jennings, who has not been expected to live for several days, is gradually growing worse. His son, Mr. Jesse Jennings, of Newport News, Va., arrived last night.

A TRAINING SHIP GOES DOWN

ONE HUNDRED MEN LOST AND FORTY OTHERS MISSING.

At Ten O'clock Yesterday Morning Mountain High Waves Struck the Vessel and She Went to the Bottom With Tremendous Loss of Life.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Madrid, Dec. 17.—The German training ship Gneiseneau foundered yesterday off Malaga, 65 miles northeast of Gibraltar, and it is now believed that one hundred persons were lost, and forty are badly injured, and forty taken off in a small boat, are missing.

The training ship had been at Malaga since November 1, practicing with guns of large calibre. She had been previously at Megador, Morocco.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning a review of the cadets was in order. The wind was extremely violent and instructions were given to stoke up as rapidly as possible. But already mountainous waves had struck the ship, snapping the anchor chains. She was driven helplessly toward the port and sank. The crew threw themselves into the sea and clung to the wreckage, but the majority quickly disappeared.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

A New York telegram says this is the coldest day of the sason, being only thirteen above zero this morning at six o'clock.

A Vienna dispatch says that two hundred square miles of country in Hungary is famine stricken, and disease is rampant. There are eight cases of bubonic pleague and thousands of cases of typhus. The mortality in the district is three hundred in a thousand.

Nearly $500,000 were lost in a fire in Cleveland this morning. The immense plant of the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Company. and others were burned.

The Pope this morning appointed several new bishops, including Moeller, of Columbus, Ohio, Avering. of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Keane, of Dubuque, Iowa.

A MURDER AND A LYNCHING.

Citizens of Rockport, Ind., Are in a Bad Way Over Crimes in Their Communities.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Indianapolis, Dec. 16.—Gov. Mount, when informed last night of the lynching of the two nogroes, Rowland and Henderson, at Rockport, said that he would make a thorough investigation. He was emphatic in the declaration that the ringleaders of the mob should be punished. Mrs. Simons, the widow of the man for whose murder the negroes were lynched, is so ill of nervous prostration that she may die. Walter Evans, a citizen of Rockport, is a maniac from the excitement caused by the murder and lynching.

ON STRIKE.

The Town Clock Got all Wrong Yesterday and Took a Sprint and Then a Rest.

Our usually staid and sober town clock went wrong early yesterday morning and began to strike about every fifteen minutes. Upon investigation it was found that the pendulum had broken and the short piece that remained was trying its best to do double duty. The pendulum is a wooden pole about twelve feet in length, at the bottom of which is attached an iron weight of 160 pounds. Riveted to the other end of this pole is a piece of steel three inches in length, an inch wide, and but a little thicker than a sheet of paper. This piece of steel is all that sustains the entire weight of the pendulum and every time it swings back and forth, that is, every second, the steel bends in the center, and yesterday morning it gave way, dropping the heavy weight to the floor beneath, and breaking it like pasteboard. The pendulum has been at work since 1873 and it would be interesting to know how many times that steel has bent and unbent.

Mr. Rosenblatt fixed the clock and set it running in the afternoon.

ENGLAND A LAUGHING STOCK

CAUSED BY DISASTERS TO HER TROOPS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Great Britain, With an Army of 210,000 Men is Unable to Save Herself from Disaster by a Small Army Drawn from a Pastoral Population.

London, Dec. 15.—The astounding and utterly unexpected reverse of the British at the Magaliesberg, the news of which was broken to the nation exactly one year after General Buller's defeat at Colenso, effectually disposes of any hope that the war in South Africa is nearly ended and completely abates the myth that the operations there were merely of a guerrilla nature. As Mr. Lloyd-George (Liberal), said in the House of Commons today: "This is one of the most severe reverses suffered by the British, and it is quite evident that the war will drag on for many months to come. Dewet is making England the laughing stock of the world. We have 210,000 men in the field, yet we are unable to protect ourselves from disaster at the hands of small commandoes drawn from a pastoral population."

The extent of the reverse and the disgrace of such a large body of men surrendering to a small contingent of Boers has created a feeling of shame and astonishment, which finds free vent. With somewhat cruel coincidence the Northumberlands are known as the "Fighting Fifth." The second battalion, to which the captured troops belong, was one of the heaviest sufferers at Stromberg, a year ago. The regiment has often been pronounced by home and foreign critics to be one of the finest in the British army. All the foreboding and criticisms which Colenso gave rise to a year ago, have been resurrected by the disaster at the Magaliesberg.

The war office has nothing to do but grin and bear it and trust to time. Until General Kitchener's forces are transformed into mounted infantry and the mounted police get to work Mr. Brodrick sees little hope of improvement in the military situation. But whoever was responsible for the surrender at the Magalisberg is likely to suffer, for the new war office officials are determined to make examples of generals or any other officers guilty of such gross mismanagement, or worse, which, it would seem, must have occurred at this last defeat. This stern attitude on the part of the government, however, decreases the scorn and ignominy with which certain Liberal members of Parliament, who are avowedly pleased by the Boer successes, are regarded by the major part of the community. At a pro-Boer meeting Friday at which Leonard Courtney presided, General Kitchener's name was greeted with cries of "Villain!" "Butcher!" "Beast!" while mention of Steyn and Dewet elicited loud cheers.

The Innocence of Pleasant Anthony.

Statesville Landmark.

We give our esteemed fellow citizen, Mr. Pleasant Anthony Barringer, space in this paper to explain that the whiskey he was seduced into going after for his friends a couple of weeks ago, when he fell into the hands of the revenue officers, was not contraband goods at all. There are those of course who will jeer Pleasant Anthony's explanation and will say that the simple fact that the liquor was found in his possession was sufficient to make one believe that it wus blockade, inasmuch as his reputation for preferring crooked paths to those of rectitude is pretty well established. We make no point of the fact that Pleasant Anthony had just finished a six months' term in jail for violation of the postal laws; that he has been convicted of 'removing" watermelons not his own; that he found it convenient to stay outside the State for a season, and that he has been charged with various other indiscretions. We pass these by and give him a chance to show his innocent connection with two kegs of liquor, notwithstanding he admits deceiving 'Squire Steele in order to get his buggy.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price is now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

MISS HETTIE JORDAN.

Memoral Exercises by the Society to Which She Belonged

[The following was brought to The Telegram Saturday for publicaation, but too late for that day's paper]

The Lee Literary Society of the Greensboro High School of which our little friend, Hettie Jordan, was a member, held memoral exercises Friday afternoon in which was read the following tribute written by one of its members, Miss Beulah Wingham.

"Hettie, the beloved daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jordan, was born June 12th, 1884, and died Dec. 12th, 1900.

"She was a dutiful and obedient daughter. She had just reached the age of accountability and seemed indispensable to both mother and father. At no sadder period of life could she have been taken, for she had reached the age when she was the comfort and joy of her parents in their declining years. She was a consistent Christian; she joined the First Presbyterian church about a year ago, though for many years she had been a follower of Christ. She was a true Sunday school scholor, devoted to her teacher and her pastor. She was the sunshine of her home and her many friends, all of whom express deep sorrow at losing her bright face.

"The deceased was a member of Junior Grade II, Greensboro High school. She began her education in the Graded school, leaving each grade for the next higher as the years passed, until she reached the High School. Never had she seemed to care for study as much as this year. Her lessons gave evidence of careful study, and many pleasures were foregone for the sake of having her lessons prepared. She was a member of the chorus class. Of all school duties and pleasures, this was undoubtedly much loved by her. She was always ready to sing and was present at every at every practice. The song sung by her class at the funeral was one of her favorites and the last one learned before being taken away. Her life, as it were, was spent in song and praise. In the bloom of youth with life unfolding before her, its hopes and bright prospects, she has been taken from our midst. She will be missed from our class and our school, and though our loss seems irreparable, we know "She is not dead, but sleepeth."'

The following resolutions were adopted by her society and her teachers:

"Whereas, God, who never makes mistakes, has seen fit to take to His home above, our dear school mate, Hettie Jordan, therefore,

"Resolved 1. That in her death our teachers have lost a faithful pupil, and we her school mates, a devoted friend. By her uniform kindness, her Christian spirit, her sunshiney disposition, she won the love of all who knew her.

"Resolved 2. That we extend the grief stricken parents our sincere sympathy and assure them that our hearts bleed with theirs in this great sorrow.

Resolved 3. That these resolutions be sent to the city papers for publication and that a copy be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Jordan,

MISS A. W. MEBANE,
G. A. GRIMSLEY,
E. D. BROADHURST,
MISS A. M. PITTMAN,

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

THE MONUMENT SUBSCRIPTION LIST.

The Telegram stated Saturday that the friends of the movement to erect a colonial monument, costing $1,000, at the Guilford Battle Ground park, by popular subscription, believed that the monument had an assured success. They were encouraged to take this view from the fact that $375 of the $1,000 had been subscribed before the subscription list had been publicly opened, and they concluded that after much had been pledged the people of the town would be too patriotic to let the plan fail. This is really a very fine beginning. The conception of this monument contemplates nothing narrow. It celebrates the whole glory of North Carolina—Alamance, Moore's Creek, Mecklenbury—all. The subscription stands.

The Nicaraguan Canal, the possession of the Philippines and an open door in China will make Texas the greatest State in the Union.—Galveston News.

We have been surprised that our Southern papers have appeared to be so little interested in the proposed isthmian canal. It appears to us if there is one section of the country that will be most of all benefited by the canal, it is the South.

which is in secret." And while a holy hush rested upon the congregation, the sweet voices of Miss Meta Beall and Mr. Taylor rose in that comforting song, "Peace, Sweet Peace."

At the Presbyterian church last night Dr. E. W. Smith delivered a most eloquent and able sermon to the young men Text, Romans 12; 11; "Not Slothful in Business."

Dr. Smith said that the Bible treated of all phases of human life. And tonight he was going to talk from a business point of view to the young men. There are requisities which every man must have who would succeed in the business world.

1. Thoroughness. Dr. Smith told of a talk which he had with Mr. Ogburn, the manager of Wanamaker's great store in New York. "Mr. Ogburn," he said, "attributed the great part of the failures in business to a lack of thoroughness." He said that most men do not master what they undertake. Solomon said "Whatsoever thy hands find to do, do it with thy might." Make your employer's business your own and his interest your interest. Do more than you are required to do. There is a great distinction between requirements and possibilities of a position. Requirements every man must learn. If we aim at nothing higher, we are not likely to advance. Make yourself thoroughly acquainted with the business in every detail. Joseph in Potiphar's house not only did what he was required to do, but he did more, and he was promoted to higher things. "The employer does not live who will keep the cream of his establishment from rising."

II. Utilize your spare moments. A lawyer in order to reach the possibilities of his profession, the merchant who would achieve success in his business, the clerk who would be promoted and rise to a better position and attain the possibilities must utilize his spare time The world's greatest artists have been those who have developed themselves by utilizing their spare moments and this is true of almost every branch of business and every profession.

III Make God your partner in business. It is essetnial if you would have the truest and best success.

(1) Seek God's advice.

(2) Give to God one-tenth.

(3) Do nothing in business that God would not approve.

It will build you up. And when the day comes when your business is over God will receive you into everlasting habitations.

TEST OF EMERGENCY RATION.

A Troop of United States Cavalry to Try Experiment for a Fortnight.

Capt. Fountain and Capt. Foster, of the emergency ration board of the war department, who have been in Kansas City for several weeks preparing the ration for an actual test, will leave for Fort Reno, I. T. They will start from Reno with a troop of cavalry made up of men from Fort Reno and Fort Sill and make marching expeditions, during which the men will live wholly on the emergency ration, which has been prepared at a packing company's plant at Kansas City.

The ration is put up in an elliptical can eight inches long. Each day's food weighs a pound, and each can contains three cakes of sweet chocolate and three cakes of a food preparation composed of a meat and grain compound. The latter, which tastes not unlike parched corn, with a slight flavor of meat, is very palatable. It can be eaten uncooked, made into a porridge or a soup, or it can be made into a mush and then fried.

Each can contains small packages of salt and pepper. The effect of the food on the men will be carefully noted. They will be weighed every day and their conditions closely observed by a physician. The test will probably last two or three weeks, and then the board will report to the war department the result of the test.

GOES UNRECOGNIZED.

Ex-President Harrison and His Sprightly Little Daughter Escape the Notice of New York Crowds.

Benjamin Harrison, dressed in his usual black frock coat and a high silk hat, walked five blocks in the Broadway hotel district of New York, thronged with men and women, the other day and not one recognized him. "Baby" Harrison—"she's getting to be quite a miss," her father says—was tripping alongside, her little hand in his, and stepping on the cracks between the stones. She missed one. She halted and reached back one little foot to touch it. She jerked on the hand of her ex-presidential father, and he paused, stepped half a pace backward, and smiled benignly while "Baby" Harrison planted her foot on that crack. Nobody dreamed that the old gentleman obeying the child was an ex-chief magistrate of the United States.

Not Appreciated.

The crown prince of Sweden is to practice ruling while his father is sick, but the prince of Wales is never allowed to be the whole thing, remarks the Chicago Record, even for a few hours, no matter what may ail his royal mamma.

Blue Monday.

A South side woman petitioned the courts to protect her in her regular washday, but it is believed, says the Chicago Record, that the majority of women would rather petition the legislature to abolish washday altogether.

The Trans-Siberian railroad will be completed at the present rate of working in about two years, the cost probably considerably exceeding the original estimate of $175,500,000.

The cloak is provided with waterproof pockets in which food and drink may be carried as well as blue lights, in case the wearer is shipwrecked in the night.

On the shore of the river near Westbrook can always be seen many cords of river wood compactly piled up. This wood comes from the bottom of the river. For many years a thriving business has been done in raising water soaked logs in the river between Westbrook and Mallison Falls. By the use of wide flatboats the logs are drawn to the surface, towed to the landing and split into cordwood. It is estimated that an average of 100 cords yearly have been recovered from the river bed.—Kennebec (Me.) Journal.

A physician attached to a British hospital in South Africa is impressed with the fact that preventive inoculation for typhoid fever is valuable treatment. Among the inoculated the death rate was lower by 23 per cent. than among the uninoculated. The average temperature also was lower. As many as 120 cases came under notice and in most instances they were very severe. The treatment was with doses of carbolic acid three times a day. Brandy was the most useful stimulant, facilitating sleep. Transfusion with salt solution saved many lives, causing patients to rally wonderfully. Out of the 120 cases there were 12 cases of hemorrhage, a fact supporting the contention that carbolic acid tends to promote that complication.

Chinese Characters.

Many of the characters in the Chinese language are very suggestive of the relationship between husband and wife, and leave no doubt as to the subordinate position which the woman occupies in Chinese domestic life. The part which the Chinaman plays in securing his bride is vigorously illustrated in the word to seize, the character for woman crouching under the Chinese symbol for claws, while the character for wife, indicated by a woman placed beside a broom, is evidence of the Chinaman's opinion with regard to the proper position of his helpmate in his household.—Ladies' Home Journal.

TOD SLOAN NETTLED.

Indignant Because the Prince of Wales Has Turned Him Down.

Declares He Will Ride in English Races, However—London Field Deplores Presence of Yankees at Newmarket Track.

Tod Sloan's temper is seriously ruffled by the loss of his engagement with the prince of Wales, says a London dispatch to the New York World.

"Have you been notified that you will not be retained by the prince of Wales?" the jockey was asked.

"No, but I guess it's true, all the same," was Sloan's reply. "The feeling that has been stirred up against American jockeys here by some of the swells and sporting papers is the worst I ever knew. The prince could not stand against it, I suppose, and I say nothing against him."

"Do you intend to give up racing here?"

"I don't intend to do anything of the kind. I have still as many offers to ride from the best owners as I want. I ride fair, do my best every time and am not beaten yet. You can tell them that in New York."

Marsh, the prince of Wales' trainer, furnished information before it was communicated to Sloan, and the prince, it is said, has rebuked him for it. Despite Sloan's confidence in himself, this canceling of the prince of Wales' engagement is considered the worst blow he has received, as other owners will surely follow suit.

The London Field gives prominence to a letter dealing with Lord Durham's charges against American jockeys, in which the writer regretfully chronicles the complete Americanizing of Newmarket. After saying that he agrees with Lord Durham, the writer adds:

"The rank and file of American visitors are an unmitigated nuisance. Visit Newmarket any morning and what do you see? Buckboards and buggies in place of English traps, American women with two-colored hair and the complexion of a French clown, the American jockey and his entourage of hangers-on; and, worse than all, a huge sprinkling of unattached American loafers, who claim they are friends of the trainers and jockeys, but who in reality are gamblers and limberers of the worst type, who have merely sought to find on the English race course a Tom Tiddler's ground where they will not be interfered with by police to whom they are not known—in fact, Americans during the present season have almost dominated Newmarket. It is English money they have come after, and many of them are not very scrupulous how they get it."

AMERICA REWARDS FIVE TARS

Recognizes the Heroism of British Sailors Who Rescued Yankee Crew.

The United States government, through the Liverpool consulate, has substantially rewarded five seamen of the Dominion liner Commonwealth for their gallant services in rescuing the crew of the American schooner Leading Breeze, which was wrecked in a hurricane off Portland, Me., October 16. The Leading Breeze was bound from Boston, Mass., with a cargo of salt for Eastport, Me., and was in a waterlogged and sinking condition when sighted by the Commonwealth.

The rescue was effected with great difficulty in a heavy sea. The schooner's crew was thoroughly exhausted and the men lost everything they possessed. When they landed at Liverpool they were supplied with all they needed at the American consulate.

Capt. McCauley, who skillfully handled the Commonwealth while the rescue was being attempted, and the second officer, Mathias, who was in command of the boat's crew, will also be rewarded.

Cousin of Count Castellane Despairs of Getting American Heiress.

Comte Ademar de Castellane, cousin to Comte Boni, who was booked to sail for America on the St. Paul, has decided to remain at Paris. He was bent on marrying an American heiress.

"I may not go at all to the United States," he said, "certainly not for several months. There has been too much talk about my cousin.

"Frenchmen of standing will be slow in future to marry American heiresses. What is the good of their being heiresses if the whole family and a guardian to boot must be consulted before one can touch a cent of one's wife's money?

"The international marriage market has received a shock from which it will be slow to recover."

"Well, I'll have to try one," said the landlady. "I notice a fowl doesn't go far!"—N. Y. World.

For Our Lady Readers

8158—Ladies' Draped Waist.
32, 34, 36, 38, 40 inch bust.

LADIES' DRAPED WAIST NO .8158.

Geranium panne and ivory lace over taffeta were combined to develop this artistic waist. It is mounted on a glove-fitted lining which closes in the center front, the seams and feather-bones. The backs are faced with lace to a square yoke depth and the panne arranged in folds from the lower edge of the yoke to the belt.

The entire front is covered with lace, which is drawn down in a point at the center and fastens invisibly on the left side.

Folds of the panne arranged at the underarm seams, are drawn together over the bust in bolero effect and fastened under a huge rosette. The collar is deeper at the back than in front, and edged with a band of panne.

The close-fitting, two piece sleeves terminate just below the elbows. The lace undersleeves are gathered at upper and lower edges, and arranged on velvet sleeves, the joining being hidden by folds of panne with rosettes at the elbows. The lace is adjusted on a tight wrist band, which fastens with a jeweled button.

Lovely bodices in this mode may be developed in velvet, satin taffeta, brocaded silk or frosted moire, combined with lace, allover applique, Persian embroidery, chiffon or mousseline.

To make the waist in the medium size will require one and three-fourths yards of allover lace thirty-six inches wide for fronts and undersleeves and two and three-fourths yards of twenty-two inch velvet. The pattern, No. 8158, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measure.

IN WOMAN'S REALM.

While the ordinary, long, cape shape is the usual choice for an opera coat, there are newer examples. These stand-by long capes are preferably in the light shades of broadcloth, satin cloth or like materials. Ivory white, dough color, castor, coral turquoise, old blue, pastel rose and red are the colors most often chosen.

In the majority of cases quilted silk or satin plays the part of lining.

This year fur is the most general choice for the facing of the tall collar, cuffs and the reveser. It is warm, becoming, rich, and usually wears well. Very many of the facings are of shirred chiffon, however, the shirrings consisting of fluffy, inch-deep tucks. This is very lovely and becoming and wears as long as most of us desire, for one who requires such a wrap nearly every night, though it might look rather the worse for wear come Lent.

FOR SUBURBANITES.

Here's a poser.

Mrs. Suburbs usually dislikes wearing a trailing lace or chiffon cloak in a train, and the long light cloth ones just mentioned makes them a trial.

So cloth cape in dough color has been designed. It is fancifully stitched in the same color (or lack of color) and is lined with Siberian squirrel. Though brought out for this evening wear, the cape is useful in many ways, and could be worn even for shopping without transgressing any modish law.

FOR THE URBANITE.

This is a gorgeous affair so very new that it has not been named as yet. In shape it is a pelisse with a long trail, and long as it is, it manages to have a scant look, while yet having "spring" enough not to hoop over the still longer dress.

This coat is made of finest black Brussels net, liberally covered with black silver and smoke-blue spangles. It is made over smoke-blue chiffon, which just shows in billowy accordion plaitings, round under the lower edge, and, combined with black formed a shirring facing down the front, and at the collar and cuffs, with blue fox for a border.

But the best time comes last. It is lined throughout with white baby lamb. One might quite as truthfully call it a baby lamb coat made wrong side out, and covered with net. It is a beauty!

SORES AND ULCERS.

Sores and Ulcers never become chronic unless the blood is in poor condition—is sluggish, weak and unable to throw off the poisons that accumulate in it. The system must be relieved of the unhealthy matter through the sore, and great danger to life would follow should it heal before the blood has been made pure and healthy and all impurities eliminated from the system. S.S.S. begins the cure by first cleansing and invigorating the blood, building up the general health and removing from the system all morbid, effete matter. A CONSTANT DRAIN UPON THE SYSTEM. When this has been accomplished the discharge gradually ceases, and the sore or ulcer heals. It is the tendency of these old indolent sores to grow worse and worse, and eventually to destroy the bones. Local applications, while soothing and to some extent alleviate pain, cannot reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does, and no matter how apparently hopeless your condition, even though your constitution has broken down, it will bring relief when nothing else can. It supplies the rich, pure blood necessary to heal the sore and nourish the debilitated, diseased body.

Mr. J. B. Talbert, Lock Box 245, Winona, Miss., says: "Six years ago my leg from the knee to the foot was one solid sore. Several physicians treated me and I made two trips to Hot Springs, but found no relief. I was induced to try S. S. S., and it made a complete cure. I have been a perfectly well man ever since."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known—contains no poisonous minerals to ruin the digestion and add to, rather than relieve your sufferings. If your flesh does not heal readily when scratched, bruised or cut, your blood is in bad condition, and any ordinary sore is apt to become chronic.

Send for our free book and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for this service.

CONSUMPTION

is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it—till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself, and at home.

Take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil, and live carefully every way.

This is sound doctrine, whatever you may think or be told; and, if heeded, will save life.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than any hing I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.
